Adm. Byrd Dinner to Aid Rescue Committee

A testimonial dinner honoring Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, U. S. N., sponsored by the International Rescue Committee, of which Adm. Byrd is honorary chairman, will be held Tuesday, April 3, in the Plaza. The dinner, which will benefit the work of the International Rescue Committee, will mark the first public appearance in this city of Adm. Byrd since his return from the Antarctic and will enable those present to hear a first-hand account of his most recent expedition.

Mr. Thomas J. Watson is chairman of the dinner's arrangements and Mrs. T. Markoe Robertson is chairman of the women's committee, which includes Mmes. George F. Baker, Harold Talbott, Brooks Howe, William C. T. Gaynor, Ellen L. McCluskey, Carroll Carstairs, William Randolph Hearst, George F. Baker jr., H. Nugent Head, Whitney de Rham, Gilbert D. Byrd, and Nicholas Biddle.

The International Rescue Committee, founded in 1933, is a voluntary American private organization "to aid escapees from dictatorship, terror and oppression." Mr. Angier Biddle Duke is president of the committee; Mr. Richard R. Salzmänn, vice-president; Mr. Eric M. Warburg, treasurer; Mr. Leo Cherne, chairman; Mr. Joseph Buttinger, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt, secretary.

Members of the Adm. Byrd dinner committee, still being formed, include Mmes. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Randolph A. Kidder, A Ronald Tree, Adm. Arthur Radford, U. S. N.; Gen. Thomas D. White, U. S. A. F., and Messrs. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, Paul G. Hoffman, Raymond Fosdick, Artemus L. Gates, Edward V. Rickenbacker, Spyros P. Skouras, Charles E. Wilson, Henry S. Canby, James A. Farley, Conrad N.
